

Thunder of the SEA

What will be will be
Hear the thunder of the SEA
So many cheats and sheep
Foolish Followers of theives
Thinking selfish thoughts of me
So hear the thunder of the SEA
Let the waves break over you
May you drown in green and salt
Because the wash which overcomes you
Is made to undo me, crow my faults
My friends have so much power from the dream for which we serve
While you are empty and bereft and you cannot hold your nerve
My warriors are angels and they'll make you weep from fear
As we break upon your city of cheating thieves and lies
Where marketeers are held in high esteem
While truth is bound and gagged in the dungeons of your dreams
